

SUMMER READING: BIOLOGY: I couldn't decide which book to recommend you so I have gone for 3 very different books, but all written by biologists.

Chose one (or 2!) you think you will enjoy the most.

A sting in the tale by Dave Goulson

This book cemented my love for bumblebees and widened my understanding of their importance to humans and planet Earth.

Sex on Earth/Death on Earth by Jules

Howard

These books are written by one of my university friends and are a hilarious read but at the same time teach you the biology behind two of the most interesting (in my opinion!) topics in biology.

ENJOY!
